DISTRICT ELECTRIC RAIL BOARD UNABLE TO ENFORCE LAW

Commission Lacks Jurisdiction In the Transfer Dispute.

SHOWS SYMPATHY FOR CAR PATRONS

Takoma Park Mayor's Complaint Is Referred Back To Commerce Body.

While the District Electric Railway Commission has been cognizant of the existence of the old universal transfer law of 1894, it, like the District Cimmissioners, has discovered no way in which it could bring about enforce-

The Commission now has before li the complaint of W. G. Platt, of Takoma Park, Md., made to the Interstate Commerce Commission against the refusal of the Capital Traction Company to join with the Baltimore and Washington Transit Company, in observing a five cent fare over the lines of the two companies between Takoma and the center of Washington,

The commission probably will refer the complaint back to the Interstate Commerce Commission with the statement that it lacks jurisdiction, and that, inasmuch as the matter is claimed to be in reference to an interstate railway rate, the proper authority to consider it is the Interstate Commission itself.

The commission is expected to take this action at tomorrow afternoon's meeting. The complaint of Mayor Platt was referred without consideration by the Interstate Commerce Commission, but what disposition will be made of it when the report of the District commission is received cannot be forecast-ed with any accuracy at this time.

Shows Sympathy.

While the District commission has no authority over the street and interurban railway companies so far as requiring exchange transfers is concerned, that body has shown its sympathy with public complaints about transfers by public complaints about transfers by forwarding to Representative Wiley a large number of complaints for his use in framing legislation.

This sympathy was demonstrated today by a declaration of one of its members. Thomas W. Smith, who expressed his pleasure at the filing of the suit of the Matthewer & Washington Transit the Haltimore & Washington Transit Company against the Capital Traction

He also expressed the opinion that the former company would vin out and would be entitled to damages because of the latter's refusal to issue and accept transfers.

President McKinley's assassination shocked the whole world, and spreadover the United States a gloom not known since the tragic taking off of Abraham Lincoln, His had been an Administration in which he had endeared himself to the people of goth parties; and the attack upon him came at a time when he seemed at peace with all the world, and all the world with him. He had been nominated by the Republican party for a second term in 1900, and then elected by a large majority. He was in a year of triumph in 1901, the first of his second term. His appearance at the exposition at Buffalo was one of the many occasions on which he appeared to receive the public.

Kinley had died.
Czolgosz, whose victim was the third President assassinated, was later tried, convicted and executed.
President McKinley was fifty-eight years old when he died. He was a native of Niles, Ohlo. He received a good education, attending Alleghany College, at Meadville, Pa., and afterward teaching school. He entered the Union service in the civil was with the Twenty-third Ohlo Volunteers. After a brilliant carcer he was mustered out with the rank of major at the close of the war.

Studied Law After War.

McKinley took up the study of law mmediately after the war. He established himself at Canton, his home, for the remainder of his life. He became prosecuting attorney of Stark county in He was elected to Congress in 1876, where his career was notable. He was especially prominent in tariff legis-lation, being chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the House under Speaker Thomas B. Reed. He then retired from Congress and served for two terms as governor of Ohio. He was nominated for President by the Republicans at their St. Louis convention in 1896. He received 271 electoral votes as against 176 cast for William Jennings Bryan. Garret A. Hobart was elected Vice President. The McKinley Administration was marked chiefly by the Spanish War, and the problems that the new possessions gained as a result of that war presented.

McKinley was re-elected in 1900 by 292 electoral votes, as compared with 155 cast for Bryan, who was again his competitor. The President's wife was Ida Saxton, who survived him. She has since died.

AT STEADY PRICES. STOCKS WERE SLOW Court Sets Aside The Trust

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Judged by the appearance of the market, it looks as if the buils were about ready to give the market a rally of several points, with a view of running in the army of overextended shorts and creating a higher range on which to market more stock. This opinion is echoed from many brokerage houses, although few seem to believe that there can be any radical improvement of a prolonged the railroad man rarely indulges in gloomy utterfines save when more prosperous times are within sight. Railroad earnings continue mixed. Southern railway for the fourth week in August increased earnings by $46,-$786, while Louisville and Nashville earnings for the same period decreased $20,722, and Texas Pacific decreased $10,785. Canadian Pacific maintained its grand records for the year with an increase for the same week of $364,000. General Business Shows Improvement , Clearings Being Near Average.

at this time are rather favorable for the market, advise against following the advance too far. General Electric was the strongest stock on the list, advancing over 2 points. There were no weak securi-ties, all holding from % to a point net improvements. All things considered, there was a fairly good trade on the local exchange. It was largely a bond market, showing that the investments are being made by conservative people, $12,000 bonds, face values being purchased. The stock transactions were limited, but the chances for the market in the near future seem to be improving decidedly. The belated call for report as to condition of banks will make money a little easier, despite the general opinion that money will be rather close this winter. Most of the banks have been nursing their cash against the call, and with practical assurance that the last call of the year will be three months away unless Comptroller Murray should decide to do the unusual and "call" in November, the disposition to use cash for infairly good trade on the local exchange. Justice Gould, in Equity Court. favorable in tenor. Paris papers declared that the matter of differences held by France and Germany had been eliminated and the Street gave credence to the reports. Then, too, there is a chance that labor troubles on the Harriman and Illinois Central roads may be avoided. Labor leaders hesitated to take the initiative at this time, when business at the best is not satisfactory, and when rumors accredit the intention of railroad officials to retrench in the employment field.

James J. Hill is out with a pessimistic interview in which he asserts that "An upturn in business is not in sight and thousands will be thrown out of work before the demand for manufactured articles overtakes the supply." Mr. Hill is a close observer, but he may be mistaken, although it is admitted that trade drags, although ber, the disposition to use cash
